INDIANA BULLETIN NO. IN 230-4-1

SUBJECT: EOP – Black History Month

Purpose: To provide information on Black History Month

Expiration Date: September 30, 2004

Indiana's NRCS employees are a very diverse group. It is this diversity that in some respect is our strength. Each year we set aside specific months as a time to reflect, learn and celebrate who we are. Through this time of reflection we have an opportunity to learn about the heritage and culture of the people we work with daily. By taking a little time to learn about the heritage and culture of the people of our diverse workforce, our lives will be enriched and we will have an improved working environment.

February is celebrated as Black History month. It is the month in which we bear witness to the progress, richness, and diversity of African American achievement. During the 1920's an African American named Carter G. Woodson created and promoted Negro History Week. February was chosen because it included the birthdays of Frederick Douglas and Abraham Lincoln. In 1976 the month-long celebration was implemented. It is a time for Americans to reflect on both the history and teaching of African Americans whose contributions are still too little known.

The theme for the 2004 Black History Month is, “Brown VS Board of Education” 50th Anniversary (May 17, 1954)”.

Our Black Emphasis Program Manager has put together a number of links to sites that offer an array of information on the history, culture and contributions of African Americans. I hope you will take a little time and visit some of these sites. Check out the “February is Black History Month” link on the in.nrcs.usda.gov homepage.

If you have plans to be in the State Office during the month of February, I invite you to take a moment to view our Black History display along with the informational materials.

If you have any questions about Black History Month, please contact Bennie Clark, Jr., NRCS Black Emphasis Program Manager, at 317-290-3200, x394 or by e-mail at Bennie.Clark@in.usda.gov.
